Chamberlain is an experienced litigation associate focusing on insurance coverage issues, personal injury, construction litigation, liquor liability, medical malpractice, and business litigation. With a strong trial background, Chamberlain has successfully represented clients across various industries in state, federal, and appellate courts. Known for a detail-oriented and client-focused approach, she brings a solution-driven mindset to each case, ensuring that clients receive effective and timely counsel.

Before joining Barnwell Whaley in 2025, Chamberlain worked at prominent regional and national firms. While in law school, she gained valuable insights as a student for the former Chief Judge of the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Chamberlain assisted in legal research, opinion drafting, and preparing for oral arguments. She is also a former public school teacher and continued advocate for public education.

Chamberlain earned her law degree, magna cum laude, from Campbell University School of Law where she was the Symposium Editor of Campbell Law Review and a National Champion mock trial advocate. She is admitted to practice in North Carolina. Her peers have recognized her for select honors and awards, including Super Lawyers “Rising Star” and as a North Carolina Legal Elite “Young Gun.”
