

Probate and Estate Law Attorneys:

Jeffrey Bogdan

Anna Strandberg

Probate and Estate Law

Estate Planning

Barnwell Whaley South Carolina estate attorneys assist clients in proactively planning their estates and enabling them to protect and transfer their life's work to loved ones as they choose. Our estate planning attorneys have experience with establishing wills, powers of attorney, and end of life medical directives as well as with tailoring complex trusts to protect and preserve assets upon death and during life.

Examples of services include:

- Wills
- Living wills
- Powers of attorney
- Trusts
- Special needs planning
- Asset protection
- Charitable giving
- Business succession planning

Probate Law

Barnwell Whaley South Carolina Probate attorneys assist clients navigating the sometimes complex or daunting legal process used to carry out the wishes of the deceased known as Probate. Anna Strandberg, a key member of our probate law team has extensive experience with South Carolina Probate matters as she clerked for the Honorable Judge Irvin Condon in the Charleston County Probate Court prior to her practice at Barnwell Whaley. She and other Barnwell Whaley Charleston probate attorneys assist clients with matters related to:

Probate administration

- Appointment of Personal Representatives
- Formal and informal probate proceedings
- Fulfilling notice requirements to creditors, heirs, and beneficiaries
- Statutory filing requirements
- Distribution of assets and closing of estates
- Ancillary and subsequent administration

Probate litigation

- Representing family members, personal representatives, and beneficiaries in will disputes
- Claims by omitted spouses or other family members
- Breach of fiduciary duty
- Determination of heirs
- Contested and uncontested sale of real property